

America's first Adult Store Drive-Thru is:

Trading Guns off the Streets for Fun between the Sheets! Feb. 8th-15th. Sherri Williams grabbed national headlines when she opened America's first adult store Drive Thru after having sued the State of Alabama to overturn the ban on the sale of intimate toys. HUNTSVILLE, Ala., "It's my contribution to making love, not war, here in Alabama, where guns are legal and adult toys are not" business owner Sherri Williams said of her Pleasures Store "Guns for Toys" event February 8th - 15th. A lifetime proponent of gun rights Sherri Williams' quoted battle cry "I'll give you my Vibrators when you pry them from my cold, dead hand" was the focus of the highly publicized '20/20' segment with John Stossel, featuring Williams' and the ACLU's battle to overturn the ban on adult toys.

http://mypleasurestore.com/?page_id=390 The Pleasures store drive thru offers free condoms as a community service, and from February 8th - the 15th they will be giving away romance inspiring gifts equal to the value of the guns offered in trade. Owner and licensed Gun Dealer David Smith of Blue Steel Gun Works will be on site from 11am until 7 pm daily to assess the value and condition of the guns presented. "We're loading our silver bullets to take aim at the hearts of gun enthusiasts who may rather kiss a woman, than their gun on this Valentines Day." "Our goal is to take 300 guns off the streets". Williams commented. The Pleasures one stop romance shops will be the country's first adult boutiques to offer a storewide selection of romance inspiring gifts in trade for guns in any condition. In a flaccid economy with Valentines Day fast approaching, this program is liberation for many struggling couples. All guns that were used in a crime will be handed over to the authorities, all others will be placed in an auction for sale at MyPleasureStore.com, a portion of the proceeds going to benefit the victims of violent crimes through the ACVCC.state.al.us About Pleasures: The one-stop romance shop's new location, located at 4008 University Dr., in Huntsville, Ala., offers 7000 s.f. of retail romance inspiring products, the adjoining Intimacy Clinic offers a free sexual health library, book signings, weekly seminars and workshops, free condoms, marriage counseling and therapy at it's Intimacy Clinic in addition to an outdoor lounge for wine, beer, and smokers, and an indoor lounge featuring ToyBox Parties for giggling groups of women and private functions. Pleasures' sister store in Decatur, Ala., houses an additional 4,000 square feet of romance retail. Sherri Williams founded Pleasures in June 1993 to offer Huntsville couples comfortable shopping and an endless intimate accessories selection. On Fri, Feb 11, 2011 at 4:27 PM, sherri@pleasuretel.net
